

A student logs into the RhythmReader application, joins a class using a class code, starts a learning module, does a quiz, shares data, saves data, and logs out.

